Dear Students from Indonesia,

This is the 2nd request message from the Office of Academic Affairs.

As I informed you in late April, GSIR will offer the Environmental Policy Program (EPP) once again from October 2010 to March 2011.

EPP is sponsored by Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) and all EPP participants will be granted the JASSO scholarship (a round trip airfare, monthly stipend of 130,000 yen, etc). We are inviting applications from 9 ASEAN countries and as the application deadline is approaching I am receiving applications every day. However, unfortunately, I have not received any applications from Indonesia so far.

If you know some graduate students in Indonesia who are interested in studying in Japan, have good command of English with good academic performance, please introduce this great opportunity to them. Please note that a graduate student who will graduate from the current program before March 2011 is not eligible to apply for the EPP. Only those who will return to their home universities after the completion of EPP can apply for the program. For detailed information about the EPP, please refer to IUJ home page at:

The application deadline is May 31, 2010 but we can extend the deadline for a week or so.

If you have any questions, please address them to me at short_p@iuj.ac.jp.

Thank you very much for your great help!!

Sincerely,

Yamada
