"Never let success get to your head and never let failure get to your heart."

In life the only ones who truly realize success are those who see failure time and time again, but refuse to recognize it as such. If you ever are going to realize success in your life, come to terms with the fact that you will fail, and that you have to continue to get up where you have fallen to ever gain a victory.
Success doesn't always come easy. There are going to be rough patches in our lives that we will all experience. Never let the rough patches stop you from getting to times in your life in which you feel much more at ease.

It is your time, today is your day. Don't lose your enthusiasm for life because the people in your life, or the circumstances you are facing aren't supporting your cause. Continue to trample over adversity, live the life you deserve, and seek out the success your hard work has warranted.
